Our New Firm – Today and Tomorrow

Founded in 2010 as a specialist law firm, MJ Hudson has developed into an independent alternative assets advisory and infrastructure business. We have invested in this growth because we believe that the alternative investment and advisory industries need a reliable and expert partner, able to leverage its own fund management experience to provide insightful advice and a sophisticated, robust and scalable infrastructure of digitally-enabled services.

MJ Hudson is that partner.

Law

Alternative asset managers and corporates hire us to advise on M&A and establishing investment funds. Institutional investors retain us to support them with primary fund investments and secondaries. We work across all areas of the alternative assets industry, covering venture, private equity, hedge funds, real estate, infrastructure and credit. The depth and reach of expertise across the MJ Hudson business provides us with in-house experts and additional perspectives on every issue in alternative assets, which we can leverage to help our clients achieve their goals. As one of the first firms to publish its fees, our lawyers are used to introducing innovative services and working practices and this is a strategy we will continue to pursue, exploiting digital and mobile technologies for the benefit of our clients.
